LET THE BEAUTY OF THE VERDANT
HILLS REFRESH AND REJUVENATE YOUR SOUL

Soar into great undulating heights with us and allow the wind to whisper magical secrets to you. Soak your senses in the vast expanses of the skies where you can feel the pulsating presence of your Creator the most.

Kodaikanal is one of the beautiful hill station in India , it is unique rows and rows of silky pine trees sloping down to clear, cold streams, spectacular views which suddenly disappear in foamy mist, people bundled up in sweaters and overcoats this is certainly not everyone's mental image of India. To be sure there are other hill stations, but most of them have been smothered by urban development. We seek peace and quiet in a hill station, not the noise and fumes of factories. Hopefully the powers-that-be will not allow kodaikanal to become "spoilt" at 2133 metres in the Palani Hills, off-shoot of the Western Ghat Mountain range which runs north-south along the west coast of peninsular India. Kodaikanal is in Tamilnadu state, bordering kerala.

Quite Spectacular, with forest, plantations, views of mountains and valleys, and a large picturesque lake in the centre of it all.
